Study to begin for curling club in Minden village

A feasibility study for the proposed new Minden curling club facility is expected to be completed within the next four or five weeks.

J. O. Jackson, spokesman for the club, said Monday that club members agreed on the selection of one of three consulting firms which had been asked in late February to submit estimates on the cost of a study.

A feasibility study is required under government regulations before any Wintario funding is approved for a project.

The study is expected to determine if the community can raise the money that will be needed to complete the proposed new curling club in addition to the library museum complex which is also expected to require Wintario funding.

Preliminary estimates put the public sector cost for both projects in the $200,000 range.

Wintario funding will meet 50 percent of the cost of the feasibility studies for both projects.

The existing Minden Curling Club building was deemed unsafe in an examination late last year by Ministry of Labour staff. It was kept open throughout the curling season, however by careful monitoring of the snow load. Repairs to the existing building.

History was found in Haliburton's main street last week when wrecking crews from John Beachli Construction retrieved a package containing old newspapers, and letters detailing construction of the old IGA building. The package was placed above the front window by the former owner, Jack Robertson, when he renovated the building. John Beachli examines the contents while Mrs. Robertson and Marshall Leighton, examine a 1940 issue of the Telegram. Mr. Leighton who purchased the buildings from the Robinsons, recently sold it to the Bank of Montreal.

Lutterworth affair is not quite over, Shingler asking for his money back

The book hasn't quite been closed on the events in Lutterworth Township more than a year ago that resulted in the resignation of the then reeve and deputy reeve.

Pat Conaghan, reeve and county warden, and A.O. "Bert" Shingler, Lutterworth deputy reeve, resigned in late January of last year following alleged Bell telephone credit card irregularities.

Shingler was alleged to have made long distance telephone calls of a personal nature using a credit card issued to him by the township.

Both men resigned as an investigation into the matter was ordered by council.

Subsequently, Bell telephone records were examined by the OPP, who led an investigation into the matter. Although the records showed calls had been made to as far away as Florida and charged to the township's credit card, no charges were laid against the former deputy reeve.

Shortly after his resignation was accepted, Shingler sent council a blank cheque to pay for any calls found to have been made on other than public business. The cheque was accepted and an amount subsequently written onto it.

It was then cashed and the funds placed in a special account. They have not been touched.

Now, the former deputy reeve has decided he wants the money returned, and has threatened further action if council does not comply with the request.

At a meeting last Thursday council refused to return the money.

A letter from the former deputy reeve asked council to return the money it "never did admit getting".

Clerk Wayne Hughes told council Thursday that the cheque from Shingler was received with no amount filled in. Hughes said reeve Conaghan sat down with the list of telephone calls and picked out those he claimed had been made by Shingler on personal business.

"He arbitrarily picked out some calls and I just totalled them up," Hughes said. Conaghan then ordered the amount, $170.69, written on to the cheque and the cheque negotiated.

Hughes said Thursday however that he decided to contact Shingler before the cheque was cashed.

"I did call him and he did agree to the amount," Hughes said.

In his letter to council however, Shingler denied he had any knowledge of the amount of the cheque, or that

Council rejects resignation, Bain to stay Stanhope clerk

Stanhope council voted unanimously last Friday night not to accept the resignation of township clerk treasurer Gerald Bain.

Bain had submitted his resignation at the close of a meeting Thursday night called to deal with unfinished business left over from the lengthy regular meeting of April 18.

The meeting Friday night called especially to review the resignation was open to the public, according to reeve James Harrison, who said the vote to keep Bain in the position was unanimous.

Prior to the Friday meeting, Bain had given Harrison a letter which was to be opened if the resignation was rejected. The letter withdrew the resignation, "unconditionally", Harrison said in an interview Monday.

"He also withdrew his statement in connection with the fire chief, and agreed to work harmoniously with all the other committees including the fire department, regardless of whatever decision is made in June," the reeve said.

Harrison said he was pleased with the turn of events, and indicated that it might be a positive step toward resolving problems that have haunted township officials for months.

"My personal feeling is

Public speaking contest marks beginning of Education Week

Representatives from five Haliburton County schools competed for honours in the "Oral Communication Festival" at the Secondary School on Monday, April 23.

The event, held in conjunction with Education Week, was jointly sponsored by three branches of teachers' federations and the Board of Education. The festival is the finale to a program which begins with classroom contests. These result in representatives for a school competition where winners are declared to advance to the festival.

Four students represented the High School in the Senior division and one student represented each of the four public schools in the Junior division.

Each student was required to take part in three different areas of communication. First, they read a pre-selected passage from a book of their choice and were judged on enthusiasm and appropriateness of selection. They then delivered a prepared speech, which was judged by composition, audience contact, imagination, sincerity and suitability. Finally the speaker was presented with questions related to their speech topic and their answers gave the judge an opportunity to rate them on understanding and handling of the questions. Throughout the 8-10 minute presentation, the students were judged on their speaking voice - its audibility, quality, range, clarity and pronunciation.

In the Senior division, Craig Budgen, a grade 9 student presented a well researched speech on cloning. Second speaker was Sharon Williams, a grade 10 student who gave her interpretation of the development of science fiction as a basis for entertainment in the media.

Third speaker, another grade 10 student, was Laurie Sawyer who gave an emphatic presentation on the unusual animals of Columbia. Final speaker in the Senior division was grade 9 student Peter Connelly who spoke authoritatively on the Maserati Car.

Junior division competitors began with Andrew McKay, a grade 8 student at Dorset who presented an amusing alignment of strange facts and phenomena. David Barry, a Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School grade 7 student chose the background of the Muppets as his topic. Third speaker was Tanya Davies, a grade 7 student from Cardiff whose informative presentation dealt with cross country skiing. The final, and youngest, contestant was Gregory Lodenquai who earned top marks for sincerity with his description of his native land, Jamaica.

After lengthy deliberation, the judges announced that Sharon Williams of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School was the winner of the Senior division and Andrew McKay of Dorset was the Junior division winner. Len Salvatori, on behalf of the board, presented plaques to each winner which will return to their schools. Individual plaques, engraved pens and other awards were presented to all participants.

Judges for the event were Audrey Heywood, Dorothy

Leslie Frost Centre has an untapped potential, commission is informed

Only two briefs were presented last Wednesday when the Haliburton County Economic Development Commission held the second of a planned three workshops to hear submissions on improvements to the county's economy.

For the second meeting, the commission travelled to Leslie Frost Natural Resources Centre near Dorset, and despite advance publicity, the turnout was small.

Sole briefs of the evening came from George Hamilton, director of the Leslie Frost Centre, and from Leon Lambert, of Pine Hill Log Homes, a company which recently established a sales office in the county and which may eventually build a manufacturing facility in the area.

Federal Liberal candidate David Logan also made use of the opportunity to inform the committee of a number of his economic concerns.

Main point in Hamilton's brief was that the Leslie Frost Centre could become more of a tourist attraction if it was promoted in co-operation with lodges throughout the county.

Opened in 1943 as a Ranger School, the facility was reopened as the Leslie Frost Centre in 1974 for the purpose of "fostering wider public understanding and appreciation of Ontario's natural resources, their management and use."

At present the Centre, which includes 58,000 acres of land, accommodates school groups and other organizations with an interest in natural resources. It is also used as a facility to train Ministry staff, Hamilton said.

But the use which could be most exploited for the benefit of the tourist industry in the county, according to Hamilton, is day programs and demonstrations for the casual visitor.

At present, Hamilton said, the Centre does not compete with the local tourist operators because people are only accommodated on the grounds if they have come to the Centre for educational purposes, or if they have some connection with the Ministry.

He suggested, however, that local tourist operators could benefit if the Centre was promoted as an attraction worthy of a day visit by tourists to Haliburton County.

Hamilton estimated that some 3,000 potential visitors to the centre could be accommodated by area tourist operators.

Only lodge to make use of the facility's drawing power so far is Deer Lodge on Lake Kashagawigamog which accommodated students from the separate school board of Scarborough when they visited the Centre earlier this year.

Hamilton said the Centre's attractiveness for the casual visitor could be enhanced with the completion of a museum devoted to equipment used in natural resources work, such as logging tools, and a bush camp cookery facility, perhaps run by local food contractors.

Final point in Hamilton's brief was that the Centre could be used as a convention facility to accommodate up to 160 people. He suggested that if the Centre, as a convention facility, could draw "first time" visitors to the county, they might well come back for vacations and further visits, providing a boost to the local economy.

The adult groups who use the facility at present are the "converted", Hamilton said (those with a strong interest in natural resources).

"But we want to get the message across to the 'Unconverted', doctors, lawyers, etc.," Hamilton said.

He estimated that the Centre is only tapping "ten percent of the market that potentially is there."

Second speaker of the evening was Leon Lambert, who told the commission that he and a partner had a franchise to manufacture and sell log homes for Pine Hill Log Homes, a Quebec based company.

Lambert said the company works particularly with white pine, and that he was presently looking for a ready supply of the wood in this area of Ontario.

Lambert said that once he and his partner had sold 25 homes, they would be looking to establish a permanent manufacturing facility in the area.

He noted that a ten acre site would be needed to set up the plant with enough water supply to store two million board feet of white pine and

B.C. fir.

Lambert estimated that the plant would employ approximately 20 people, including a sales force of five or six.

The Quebec based parent company is presently selling about 300 homes a year, Lambert said.

He told the commission that he was interested in locating the industry in Haliburton County because he liked the area, and because he felt it is an industry that would be compatible with the environment here.

Final speaker of the evening was David Logan, Federal Liberal candidate for the riding in May 22 election.

Logan congratulated the commission for what he termed its "foresight in exploring the potential future development of Haliburton County." The potential for improvement to the county's economy will depend, Logan said, "on strong cooperation between federal, provincial and municipal representatives."

"It is our duty to try and do what is necessary to stop the erosion of development in our

Fire guts house on Old Donald Road, family escapes injury

Spontaneous combustion is blamed for a fire that destroyed a house on the Old Donald Road early last Wednesday morning.

The house, owned by Randy Warburton was gutted in a fire that began in the attic and that quickly burned through the ceiling of the single story bungalow.

Warburton, his wife and three children were asleep when the fire began, but Mrs. Warburton was awakened by a noise that sounded like rain falling on the roof.

She got up to investigate and discovered flames shooting out of the rear of the house. Warburton said he and his wife ran into the children's bedrooms and saw flames licking through the ceiling above their heads.

They rushed the children outside before putting in a call to the Dysart fire department.

Neighbours began arriving moments later, but there was little they could do to check the spreading flames. Firemen were on the scene within 15 minutes of the alarm, but the house was gutted.

The fire apparently began in the attic of an addition that had been completed last fall.

Warburton said electricity was at first suspected as the cause, but that an inspector from the fire marshal's office later ruled it out.

The family lost most of their possessions. The furniture they did manage to save was heavily damaged by smoke and water, Warburton said.

Cost of rebuilding the house on the same foundation is estimated at more than $50,000 Warburton said, not including the loss of contents.

The family has been staying with relatives since the blaze.

Eight Haliburton County students competed in the "Oral Communications Festival" at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School. Taking part were, from l., Laurie Sawyer, David Barry, Peter Connelly, Senior division winner Sharon Williams, Junior division winner Andrew McKay, Gregory Lodenquai, Craig Bugden and Tanya Davies.

communities," he said. Rather than centralizing industry, as the government has tended to encourage in the recent past, Logan said a policy of "dispersion" should be adopted that would locate small industries in small communities across eastern Ontario.

ing would cost an estimated $60,000 to $70,000.

A new facility would cost an estimated $275,000, with public sector contribution expected to be in the $50,000 to $60,000 range and the rest of the money coming from Winario and other grants.

A decision on whether or not to go ahead with the project is not expected to be made until the feasibility study for both the curling club and the library museum complex have been completed.

Kinsman, and Eric Thompson. Questioners were McKay Brydon and Bob Penfold. The evening was chaired by Stuart Baker.

"It is recognized that service costs might increase" if this policy was followed, Logan said "but the costs of vandalism and crime are less."

"A dispersment of development brings about a greater awareness of the family way of life which is important in encouraging individual leadership," the Liberal candidate told the commission.

Logan also suggested that federal money should be pumped into the area to improve the dams that control the head waters of the Trent Valley watershed, and that a board should be set up with power to regulate and operate the system. Offices of such a board, he said, could be located in Haliburton.

Final meeting in the workshop series will be held this Friday night at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre in Wilberforce.

Stanhope will ask for study of assessment

At the most recent regular meeting of Stanhope council Wednesday, April 11, the following matters were considered:

The following members declared conflict of interest on items as shown on the agenda and declared to refrain from discussion or voting on such matters: James Harrison, Item #3, recreation; Elgin Stouffer, Item #17, general business; and Roger Woods, Item #2 on addendum, OHRP.

The minutes of the last regular meeting, March 7, were adopted as circulated.

Council adjourned from the regular meeting at 9:33 a.m. in the Stanhope Municipal Office and voted to reconvene at 9:45 at the Stanhope Firefighters Hall in order to accommodate the large number of people in attendance.

Council acknowledged receipt of a petition from Mrs. Louise Watson with respect to the retention of Gerald Bain as clerk treasurer for the municipality.

Following a presentation by Ivor James, Regional Assessment Officer, council voted to request a study of Equalized Assessment as outlined in Section 86 of the Assessment Act.

Council acknowledged receipt of the Recreation Committee meeting minutes dated March 7, and April 4, 1979 respectively.

Stanhope will discontinue negotiations with Comet Quartz with regard to the proposed property purchase. James Harrison declared interest and refrained from voting or discussion on the matter.

By virtue of By-law 79-9 for the Township of Stanhope, council appointed the following:

to the Stanhope Community Centres Board for the period April 11, 1979 to December 31, 1979: Ken Alger, Ray Woodward, David McKinlay, Bob Howe, Eleanor Patton, Mildred Archer, Allen Barnes, James Harrison and Roger Woods.

Council acknowledged receipt of all objections and letters of support with respect to By-law 78-23 for the Township of Stanhope and takes the position on each objection and letter of support as outlined on "Schedule A".

The clerk directed to prepare the necessary documents and with By-law 78-23, submit them to the Ontario Municipal Board for future consideration.

The clerk was authorized to request that a survey be completed for property to be conveyed to the municipality and more particularly described in Figure five on a plan prepared by Marshal, Macklin and Monaghan. The property is presently owned by Brown Camping Supplies Limited. The clerk was asked to check with Curry Bishop as to whether the consultants are mistaken.

Council hereby appointed Pamela Rolfe as Secretary-Treasurer of the Stanhope Airport Committee for the term ending December 1, 1980.

The Road Superintendent was authorized to tender with the County Roads Department for various material etc., as required by the township subject to the approval of the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

The offer of $800 for the old sander and $100 for the old plow, from Francis Thomas Contracting was accepted.

The road between the two Welch Lakes is to be named "Elmar Road".

Council directed that an agreement be prepared between the Township of Stanhope and Willfred Mason on a parking lot to be utilized during the winter months and be reviewed by both parties in the future.

General accounts totalling $4,054.86; March, 1979 welfare totalling $1,353.86 and road voucher #3 in the amount of $9,368.57 were allowed for payment.

By-law 79-3 to establish a fire department by-law and that this...could be a turning point in this township, and if people would take the same initiative as the clerk did...and admit their mistakes, I think things could be gotten back together, instead of having this continued uproar all the time."

The move paves the way for council to make a decision on the future of fire chief Richard Kinsman in June without the added threat of the clerk's resignation if council votes to reappoint the chief.

Harrison confirmed Monday that he is conducting an investigation into the circumstances that led to the disagreement between Bain and Kinsman, as well as the allegations that have surfaced from many of the 11 firemen who have resigned from the department in recent months.

"I'm going to be clear in my own mind of everything that's going on and of what each one is being criticized for before I make any decisions. I'm checking all possible avenues for complaints right down the line," the reeve said.

Galway Cavendish donates $100 to hospital

At the most recent meeting of Galway Cavendish council, the following matters were considered:

General Voucher #3, for the month of March in the amount of $136,970.65, was approved for payment.

Mrs. Grace Simmons made her annual visit to council to request a grant for the Minden Red Cross Hospital. She informed council of the work the hospital was performing for the surrounding district and assured council that their donation would be put to good use and also a worthy cause.

The Municipality of Galway and Cavendish will donate $100 to the Red Cross hospital in Minden for the year 1979, council decided.

Road Voucher #3, for the month of March, in the amount of $11,511.32 was approved for payment.

Welfare Voucher #3, for the month of March in the amount of $594.15 was also approved for payment.

The clerk-treasurer was authorized to submit the proposed amendment to Land Use By-law 78-43, prepared by Proctor and Redfern, to solicitor Donald Ebbs for his advice and recommendations to be returned prior to the next council meeting.

Council affirmed their support of the Buckhorn District Tourist Association, and contributed $25 to assist them in their worthwhile endeavours for 1979.

Lutterworth rejects request for money

he had been contacted before it was negotiated.

Although Shingler was not sent formal notice that the cheque had been received, Hughes said the township's solicitor has confirmed that negotiating a cheque constitutes formal notice that it has been accepted. The solicitor also advised council not to return the money, Hughes said.

Shingler's letter hinted that he would take further action if council decided last Thursday not to return the money.

"I take that letter as a threat," reeve Ron Gambell said.

"It's just a grandstand act, that's all it is," deputy reeve Bill Valentine said. "I think the township should be prepared to fight it."

Councillor Bill Prentice was adamant that council should not be swayed by Shingler's request.

"He took the taxpayers money and he paid for it," Prentice said.

"We should have used the money before this," Gambell said.

Council voted unanimously to send a letter to the former deputy reeve telling him that the money which is still sitting untouched in a special account, will not be returned.

Board can do little to stem rise in education costs, County council told Haliburton County Council is concerned about the rising cost of education and about the fact that municipal taxpayers face an ever increasing share of the burden through rising education levies. And it intends to voice those concerns to the provincial government in co-operation with two other counties.

At a meeting last Wednesday, budget committee chairman, Murray Fearrey told council that the committee had met with Jim Leeworthy, business administrator for the Haliburton County Board of Education, and J.D. Hodgson, Director of Education, following the board's announcement of 1979 education levies to the municipalities.

Last year levies rose an average of 12.7 percent, and this year, despite a modest 3.8 percent increase in the board's budget, levies rose an average of 9.2 percent.

The difference is the result of declining provincial grant support that forces taxpayers to come up with a greater proportion of the board's overall budget than they have in past years. Despite the 3.8 percent increase in expenditures projected by the board, provincial grants will fall by 2.4 percent this year to $1,858,129 of the total $4,805,785 board budget.

Fearrey said the budget committee was convinced there was little the Board of Education could do about the shift of education costs back to municipal taxpayers.

"They (Hodgson and Leeworthy) explained to us very clearly that they can do little about education costs as present provincial policy applies," Fearrey said.

Fearrey noted that the Board has made staff cuts this year due to declining enrolment, and that the reduction in staff helped to hold down the overall budget increase.

But the problem, as far as the county is concerned, is that the loss of grants and the reduction on grant floor levels dictated by the provincial government has placed any budget increase squarely back in the laps of municipal ratepayers.

"Haliburton County isn't capable of affording these kinds of increases on an ongoing basis," Fearrey said.

"It's something that we're going to have to be able to justify with adjoining counties if we're going to get anywhere," he added.

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said he felt grants should be based on the degree of growth in an area and that grant formulae should not be applied arbitrarily across the province.

"I don't have any doubt that they (the Board) do all they can to get grants, but it's a provincial problem," Nesbitt said.

Fearrey said the budget committee had contacted the District of Muskoka, and had found that they are experiencing a similar problem with falling grants and rising education levies.

To lend force to their argument with the province, council decided to join with the District of Muskoka and

Hastings County to protest what it termed a resolution, "the spiralling cost of education which is being levied on municipal taxpayers."

PONTIACS AND BUICKS LIKE NEVER BEFORE.

The remarkable front-wheel-drive 1980 Pontiacs and Buicks are here!

Pontiac's 1980 Phoenix and Buick's 1980 Skylark are new. Totally new! Neat and handsome to look at. Smooth and quiet to ride in. With lots of room for five people. Part of this spaciousness is accounted for by mounting the engine transversely, requiring less space...and by front-wheel drive, minimizing the need for a large floor hump or tunnel in the passenger area.

Front-wheel drive pays off in other ways. With the heaviest part of the car, the engine, right over the driving wheels, and with the steering wheels also doing the steering, a car is well-equipped to handle the hazards of wet roads, muddy shoulders and snowy driveways.

MacPherson strut front suspension helps give the car the feel of a big-car ride, while rack-and-pinion steering offers the driver quick, decisive control when nipping through traffic or slipping into a parking spot.

WHAT ABOUT FUEL ECONOMY?

It is excellent! A new 4-cylinder Phoenix or Skylark with optional automatic transmission has fuel consumption/economy estimates of 9.1 litres per 100 km (comparative rating)*. This means much better fuel economy than a comparably equipped 6-cylinder 1979 model...and better power-to-weight ratio.

For example, a new 4-cylinder Phoenix or Skylark with automatic transmission, will accelerate from 0 to 100 KPH as quickly as its comparably equipped '79 6-cylinder predecessor. They also share a standard 2.5 litre 4-cylinder engine with floor-mounted 4-speed manual transmission. Optional are a 2.8 litre V6 and automatic transmission.

PONTIAC PHOENIX offers four models: a Phoenix 2-door Coupe and a 5-door Hatchback Sedan, both with luxury LJ versions. A sporty SJ package is available on the Phoenix Coupe and Hatchback Sedan.

1980's Grand Opening

The 5-door Hatchback Sedan's optional 'security panel' covers the trunk area and lifts out easily so the rear seat can be folded down (standard on the LJ Hatchback).

BUICK SKYLARK offers distinctive 2-door Coupes and 4-door Sedans in three series: Skylark, Skylark Sport and Skylark Limited.

Whether buying or leasing, see your Pontiac-Buick dealer for a test drive. The 1980's are here!

*Based on Transport Canada approved test methods. These fuel consumption/economy figures are estimates which may be subject to revision. The actual results you get will vary depending on the type of driving you do, your driving habits, your car's condition and optional equipment.

Some of the equipment shown or mentioned is optional at extra cost.

Facing complexity

Education has come a long way since the days when a school was anywhere a teacher happened to be, and when students flocked to listen to and learn from brilliant men. In ancient and medieval times, it was a privilege reserved for a few. Today, it is viewed in Canada and other countries as a right of all.

Education has come a long way too since the days of the one room school house and the wood stove, since students wrote on slates and one teacher taught a dozen grades. Despite improvements in facilities, the perfection of methods, the experiments in curriculum and the changes in philosophy that have characterized recent developments in the education system, however, its basic purpose has not changed. That purpose is still to equip minds to face the challenges the world presents. It still strives to impart to people the ability to think for themselves, and it exists to give people the tools with which to make reasoned decisions based on sound information.

It is appropriate that in this, Education Week, we should pause to reflect on the educational system we have built.

If that school system seems to be, as many people claim, failing us more and more, it is not a fault that can be easily laid in the laps of educators.

Instead, we must look to society itself for the roots of discontent, for the anxieties and stresses that have affected the educational system. Society has grown so complex that it is now largely incomprehensible to even the strongest and best equipped minds.

Less than two centuries ago, it was possible for an "educated man" to know the best that had been thought and written, to encompass the fundamental principles of science and philosophy that had been worked out to that time. With the coming of the industrial revolution, however, that possibility began to fade.

Even a hundred years ago it was no longer possible for an individual to know the essence of western knowledge, as it was possible for Samuel Johnson, for example, to know that much in the eighteenth century.

Today, collective knowledge grows faster than anyone can hope to assimilate it.

Educators still face the task of informing, training and aiding the students who pass through their hands. Despite changes in the educational system, however, the task is becoming more, not less, difficult.

No education system is, or ever will be perfect. There are those who would advocate greater discipline in the schools, an increased emphasis on basic skills, the return of a classical education, and a striving for higher standards. And perhaps they are right. But the truth is that an educational system does not lead the society in which it exists so much as it mirrors that society's trends and copes with its limitations.

Our educational system is less than perfect, and no one would deny that it could be improved in many ways. But we should also realize that despite rising costs, falling enrolment, and growing disillusionment among students, a sound education system is still the best building block with which to construct a stable future. And money spent to sustain it and improve it will always be money well and wisely spent.

The first step

What may well prove to be the first positive step toward improving the situation in Stanhope Township was taken by clerk Gerald Bain late last week when he withdrew his resignation and agreed to work with all of the township's committees, including the fire department.

The move by the clerk clears the way for council to make a decision about whether or not to permanently reappoint fire chief Richard Kinsman without the threat of the clerk's resignation to complicate the decision making process.

Council has been given a few weeks relief from the pressures under which it was operating, and it is to be hoped that councillors will use that respite to weigh the facts and assess the future in a careful manner.

It is still possible, of course, that the clerk could decide to resign if the decision to reappoint the chief is made. By withdrawing his resignation last week, he left council free to make a decision, and if he subsequently resigns later in the year, he will have avoided the stigma of having pressured the council for which he works.

Most people of Stanhope are hoping that won't be the case, but the ball still rests in council's court, and a decision on the future of the chief will still have to be made.

It would appear to me that the people in Canada and in the Province of Ontario are fed up over their head with this so-called welfare state that we are now living in. This problem just doesn't lie with the Federal government, some of the responsibility is also in the hands of the Ontario government. A large percentage of people today wouldn't take a job if they were offered one on a silver platter, because they are willing to sit back and take it easy and live off Unemployment Insurance or welfare. Granted there are a large number of people who are willing to work and can't find jobs and these are the people one has to feel sorry for. Take for instance some of the employers in Toronto who are paying wages but can't find people as they don't want to work, but are willing to sit back and collect these government giveaways. A local merchant was telling me last week that he needs some work done on the roof of his home but that he is having a hard time to find someone to do the work. It seems to me that the people who are willing to go out and do a day's work are being penalized so that we can take good care of those who won't work when jobs become available. I don't know how you feel about it, but I am getting sick of paying taxes that come off my wages to keep those who don't want to work. There's one thing this country doesn't need and that's anymore welfare. It seems to me that it's simply crazy to think that transients can walk into any village, town or city and go into the local municipal office and collect welfare. Everyone seems to be blaming the local municipalities for this situation, but let's face it, it's out of their hands. The Provincial government tells the local councils that they must hand this welfare out whether they like it or not. Something is going to have to be done about this situation sooner or later. The sooner the better.

I, for one, would be very upset if the tracks between Lindsay and Haliburton were torn up. I just don't want to see this happen. In speaking with a Haliburton resident recently he had a suggestion that's well worth thinking about. He claims that it wouldn't be any problem to tear up that section of track in the Village of Haliburton from the second crossing to the station and this would eliminate the school bus driver from having to stop at these two crossings and opening their bus door when they know that there is nothing coming. It does seem a bit ridiculous. It is something that's worth thinking about.

Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Frank McIntyre of Haliburton who celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary on Sunday, April 22.

Murray Farrey, Reeve of the Municipality of Dysart et al was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton held at the Kosy Korner Restaurant. Murray brought the club up to date on projects and programs in Haliburton County and in the Village of Haliburton. The reeve revealed that the downtown renewal plan will be carried out starting in the late fall and will be completed in the spring. He also mentioned the C.N. park, sewer extensions, tax reforms and assessments and the Economic Development Commission.

We are pleased to announce that Barry Devolin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Devolin of Haliburton, has been selected as the exchange student for the Rotary Club of Haliburton. Barry will be going to the Netherlands this year and will be located 10 miles south of the Hague. We wish him Bon Voyage!

There is a good chance that Bobby Hull will be back in the National Hockey League next fall with the Chicago Black Hawks. I was interested in listening to him on TV last week when he explained that one must expect that there is going to be body contact in hockey but that the problem that faces the sport today is how the hockey stick is used. He said that there is far too much high sticking and that a hockey stick is meant for one purpose and that is to handle and control the puck with and for shooting the puck. He went on to say that it shouldn't be used as a weapon.

On Wednesday, April 11, a standing room only crowd was in attendance at the PineStone Inn at Haliburton when the Haliburton Economic Development Commission which is now part of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce held a meeting on new development in Haliburton County. Presentations were presented from organizations and individuals on the type of economic development they would like to see here. What does this large turnout at this meeting tell us? If one reads it right, it tells us that the majority of people are now starting to realize that we need small industry in the county so that for all of us who live here, we can have a better standard of living with a better all year-round economy. It seems ridiculous that we spend thousands of dollars each year to educate our children only to find that they have to leave the county to seek employment elsewhere. If we are to bring industry to the county it is going to take the all-out co-operation and efforts of municipal councils, county council, Economic Development Commission and the Chamber of Commerce. We are in no position to criticize where industry will locate as long as it's in Haliburton County. The time has come for action on this matter.

Our congratulations to three Haliburton girls, Lou-Ann English and Alison English, both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Vance English and Sharon Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Lloyd, who have graduated from Shaw Colleges in Toronto in the executive secretarial course. All three girls are graduates of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School and are employed at the main office of Ontario Hydro in Toronto.

Two or three minutes - two or three hours, what do they mean in this life of ours? Not very much if but counted as time, but minutes of gold and hours sublime; If only we'll use them once in awhile; To make someone happy - make someone smile. A minute may dry a little lad's tears; An hour sweep aside trouble of years. Minutes of time may bring to an end; Hopelessness somewhere, and bring me a friend.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I have been reading with concern the various pro and con arguments regarding the present conflict related to the Stanhope council, and the fire dept.

First, I would like to point out that Stanhope Township elected representatives, and those paid employees of the township, are in the first place responsible to all of the taxpayers in Stanhope Township. This includes permanent residents, and those who spend weekend or longer periods of time in their cottage or home. The mill rate on which the taxes are based are the same for all.

Municipal councils, in whatever form, make rules, regulations and by-laws which are adopted by council, and therefore become the principals by which council is guided in the best interests of all the taxpayers.

There cannot, and indeed must not be narrow party politics, or personal feelings of those involved with council, or on council, or employees of council if council is to carry out its work with the best possible decisions to benefit the majority.

The unfortunate situation which has been going on far too long regarding the disagreements between some members of the council, the fire chief and his men must come to an end so the council can get on with other important matters.

My remarks therefore about the fire dept: and the first to be taken into consideration is the fact that these men work on a voluntary basis. There seems to be complete agreement everywhere that these same men work together in any emergency, at any time which they are called upon to perform, without personalities getting in the way, so to speak.

In November '78, Fire Chief Kinsman and some of his men were suspended, over a question of, it is alleged, unilateral spending of money by the fire chief. After some discussions it was decided that these men be reinstated, with the provision that chief Kinsman be appointed only for a 6 month trial period.

The decision by council should have been made on the basis of ability of the chief to carry out his responsibilities to council and the community, and on a permanent basis, or not at all. After all, what kind of position does this put the chief in, in the eyes of the community, and his ability to carry out his duties.

Then came the public statement made by Gerald Bain, to the effect that if chief Kinsman is allowed to stay, he, Gerald Bain, would resign. Well, this is his prerogative if this is the way he feels about it. In my mind this kind of statement doesn't suggest that Gerald Bain is willing to sit down with those involved, and may be an impartial observer to conclude the argument, and get on with other business.

Following the public statement of Gerald Bain came the petition signed by 400 or more permanent residents in defence of Gerald Bain to be employed by council "at all costs".

Word filtered back to the office this week that many people who pick up the Echo are growing tired of reading about the problems in Stanhope Township. That fatigue is born less, I hope, from the way the stories have been written than from the nature of the problem itself. Or perhaps it's simply that the difficulties seem minor compared with other issues that make the pages of daily newspapers every day.

And that of course, is true, with one important exception. Leaving aside the fact that if it wasn't for the problems of Stanhope, the decisions of various councils and the other events that make front page news, the Echo would have a hard time being a newspaper, it's important to realize why the problems of Stanhope, or any other municipality in Haliburton County, are significant.

Such issues deserve reporting because they touch the lives of ordinary people; of friends, neighbours, and fellow county citizens. They deserve reporting too for the broad purpose of making people aware of what happens around them. But most importantly, they deserve reporting because they present the way in which people are reacting to a given set of circumstances.

And if we read between the lines, we can see much that tells us about ourselves, even though the decisions and the statements are not our own.

We can look at the problems of Stanhope Township and ask ourselves whether people are reacting in rational or irrational ways, whether they are using the democratic process to best advantage, whether they are being fair and open minded about what they know or about what they have heard. We can ask ourselves if our own reactions would be any different and we can try to understand why they would or would not be different.

And in so doing we can accomplish two purposes. We can learn about the feelings and ideas of other county residents and we can test ourselves against a situation before we face a similar one.

In so doing we may become more tolerant and perhaps even a little wiser.

That was, is, and will always remain one of the main reasons for putting together a newspaper in an area as small and relatively uneventful as Haliburton County.

"Royally" Seminars Now Accepting Registrations

Five "Let's Treat Visitors Royally" training programs have now been arranged, thanks to the Ministry of Industry and Tourism. The dates and places for the seminars are as follows: May 17 - Wagon Wheel Motel, Minden; June 5 - Orange Hall, Haliburton; June 18 - Wig-A-Mog Inn, Lake Kashagawigamog; June 20 - Harcourt Community Hall; June 21 - Mr. Fogg's, Carnarvon.

The format of the program covers good grooming, personal attitudes, telephone manners, complaint handling techniques, and general hospitality skills. Audio visual presentations highlight many points and provide an informative overview of many of the province's attractions. Local points of interest are discussed with participants to help them provide directions.

Each participant will receive a diploma at the conclusion of the program which runs from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The only cost is $4.00 per person which covers the cost of a lunch and two coffee breaks.

These seminars are exceptionally valuable to anyone meeting the public - both employees and employers. Many employers are splitting their staff between two or more of the locations so that they all may take advantage of the program. Individuals seeking summer employment would also be well advised to register.

Participation is limited to a maximum of 35 per date so we are asking for advance registration. Employers or individuals are requested to call the Chamber Office at 286-1760 and advise us of how many people you are registering for each location. Payment of the $4.00 will be made at the seminar. Don't be disappointed, call us today!

Bookkeeping for Small Businesses

Alex McLeod of the Federal Business Development Bank called us last week to let us know that the bank will be stepping up the number of helpful seminars they are providing for our area since he is now working out of the Peterborough Office. The expertise they are able to provide at such a nominal fee is something we should all be taking advantage of.

On May 22 (yes we know it's election day, but they'll give you ample time to vote) the bank is providing an all day seminar on Bookkeeping for the small businessman. The cost is only $30 which includes lunch and all study materials. To register for this extremely worthwhile day contact the Peterborough office of the F.B.D.B. at 705-748-3241.

Forestry Workshop

On the afternoon of May 2 the Economic Development Commission will be holding a workshop specifically related to the Forest Products Industry. Invitations are being mailed to all those known in the county to be involved in this field. Anyone else that is interested may attend but we would appreciate hearing from you in advance. Please call the Chamber office if you wish to attend but have not received an invitation.

Algonquin Park Master Plan Review

The Algonquin Park Master Plan has now been in place for five years and is up for review by the Provincial Parks Council. The council is holding a series of meetings to explain their existing proposals and hear briefs from interested groups and individuals.

This Thursday, April 26 at the Riverbend Motel in Bancroft there will be an opportunity in the afternoon to obtain information on existing proposals and in the evening the meeting will be held to accept presentations.

The park has a much larger effect on our county than many people realize and the Chamber and the Economic Development Commission will be represented at this meeting. If you are interested in some specific aspect of the plan but cannot attend, let us know by Thursday morning. The next meeting held near our area is in Huntsville on August 17.

It is of course the democratic right of all people to present petitions to councils, parliaments, or other organizations in respect to any given questions for or against. However, it does seem to me that the question of "at all costs" in this case could become a very dangerous precedent.

In this case it simply means to me that Gerald Bain, or any other individual would have the right to use such a ruling as intimidation against council, committees, or another individual, and thus the whole community can suffer.

It is therefore time in my mind that council decided, and not Gerald Bain or the fire chief, who shall be the fire chief, and any other committees, such decision to be made on the ability of those to do the job.

In view of my concern I must point out that I hold no animosity against any person or council, or others involved, and I feel that it is of the utmost importance that all residents in our community become more aware of the basic issues in the community for the benefit of all.

And finally, let each of us pool our knowledge, council, firemen, employees of the township, so that we may learn from each other.

Yours truly,
[Mrs.] M. Ferguson,
Part-time resident, Stanhope Twp.,
Hawk Lake Road,

Pic of the Past

A large number of our readers will recall this photo which was submitted by Brier Coneybeare of Haliburton. It's a picture of Victory Bend, a confectionary store, taken in 1923 with its owner Joe Blair standing in front by the fence. It was located near the present Allsaw bridge and in later years was torn down. The story goes that the store got its name following a law suit on who owned the property. Joe Blair won the case and since he had won the victory, he named the store Victory Bend.

Don't ever try to tell me that teaching school is a dull life. Oh, it can be pretty gruelling, not to mention gruesome, in January and February. But once we get that March break behind us, the whole scene blooms like a riotous garden in May.

For one thing, it's spring. And as you walk around the halls of a high school, trying to pry apart couples who are so tightly grooved that you're afraid they're going to cave in a row of lockers, you can't help thinking you were born 20 or 30 years too soon.

For another, the cursed snow and ice have gone, or almost, and you know there are only 10 or 11 weeks of martyrdom left until you walk out of that shoe factory, (which most modern schools resemble) and kiss it goodbye for eight weeks.

Then, in the spring, all kinds of things pop up. The drama festival. The teachers vs. students hockey game, in which an assortment of pedants, from nearly 60 down to the late 20s in age, pit their long-gone skills against a group of kids in their prime, who would dearly love to cream the math teacher who failed them in the March exams, or the English teacher who objected gently to their use of four-letter words in essays.

As I write, our school is bubbling with excitement. First of all, our custodians are on strike. This gets the kids all excited, and rumours fly about the school being closed, and a free holiday. Then their faces drop a foot when they're told they may be going to school in July, to make up for lost time. And they start cleaning up after themselves, instead of leaving it all to the janitors, as they usually do, and hope the strike will be over tomorrow. They don't give a diddle about the issues in the strike. They are practical. They want to be out of here on the first possible day in June. Don't blame them. It's human nature.

For the teachers, who generally respect the caretakers, it is an object lesson in how important are the latter - the guys who sweep the floors, vacuum the rugs, wash the windows, and generally do the hard and dirty work of keeping the school spruce and sparkling. As an old floor-scrubber and lavatory-cleaner, from the first job I ever had, I perhaps respect them more than anyone.

Unlike other countries, like England, where unions are closely knitted, we cross the picket line and go to work, however much we respect and sympathize. If we don't, we're fired. Simple as that. But we are forbidden, by our union, to do any of their work, such as emptying a waste-basket, sweeping a floor, Sort of fun.

But the really big excitement among our staff, at least the males on it, is the shuffle-board tournament. Oh, I don't mean the outdoor kind, where elderly people push with a pronged stick a plate-like object.

No, this is the kind you find in taverns across the land: guys with a beer in one hand and a two-dollar bill in the other, shouting their bets through the smoke.

We don't have beer in our staff room, but we do have a shuffle-board table. It's no frill from the school board. A staff member built it, and the rest of us bought it from him. It's the greatest relaxer in the world, after teaching four classes in a row the great truths of the world to 120 kids, 90 per cent of whom are about as interested as an aardvark.

Shuffle-board is to curling what dirty pool is to English billiards. Curling is a gentleman's game, theoretically, where you shake hands with the winners, and both teams sit down for a drink and discuss the fine points of the game. The spectators are either behind glass or up in the stands, where they politely applaud a good shot and groan with sympathy when someone makes a near miss. Something like a cricket match, with good manners as important as winning.

Shuffle-board is a game where you walk away after losing, face red with rage at your stupid partner, who missed a key shot. I have never seen any hand-shaking but have heard a lot of muttering. The spectators constantly heckle and offer coaching tips designed to destroy the player's concentration. "Put a guard on it. No, draw around it. Tap yours up. Draw deep. Play safe and cut them down, etc." There is universal delight among the watchers when a great player misses an easy shot, and reluctant grunts of appreciation when a poor player makes a brilliant shot.

Out-psychoing the opponent is a vital part of the game. Just as he is about to shoot, you lean far over to blow away

Mutual Life of Canada

Report from Queens Park

by MPP John Eakins

Intended for last week

Of course, the Provincial Budget was the big news this week. Although most of the tax increases introduced appear comparatively small in themselves, they collectively increase the problems of the average consumer, already hard hit by inflation.

Gasoline tax is increased about two cents a gallon. Tax on diesel and aviation fuel is also increased, and for the first time, fuel used by railways will be taxed, which may well lead to higher train ticket prices.

On July 1, Ontario Health Insurance Plan premiums will be raised, effective for the October benefit period. Single rate will rise from $19 to $20 a month; family rate will rise from $38 to $40 a month.

Increased gasoline and fuel taxes will raise an extra $79 million, and OHIP premiums another $40 million in provincial revenues.

Cigarette tax is up to 24 cents (from 22 cents) on a package of 20, and taxes on cigars and most pipe tobaccos are also up slightly. For the first time, basic cable TV service and telecommunication services are subject to retail sales tax, which will add about 50 cents a month to the average cable TV bill.

Land transfer tax is increased by 33 percent and the general rate for corporation income tax is increased to 14 percent from 13 percent. However, manufacturing and processing industries, and mining, logging, farming and fishing operations are exempt from the increase.

A 24-pack of beer will cost 10 cents extra ($8.40 including deposit), and mark-ups on domestic liquor and wine will be raised, adding 20 cents to the cost of a 25 oz. bottle of liquor or a 26 oz. bottle of wine.

Some time this year, the government will announce increases for various provincial fees and licences.

The good news is that the 7 percent retail sales tax on all candy, confections and soft drinks priced at 49 cents or less is eliminated, and the 10 percent entertainment tax will apply to ticket prices of $3.50 instead of $3.00 as of July 1. Sales tax has been removed from fabrics and clothing patterns, as well as smoke alarms for home use, aircraft and aircraft parts purchased by carriers licensed to provide commercial transportation, and materials bought by individuals to build their own solar heating systems will be eligible for a rebate of the sales tax, up to a maximum of $700.

Succession and gift taxes are eliminated, effective midnight April 10.

The sales tax will be taken off kitchen machinery and restaurant equipment, at least until March 31, 1981. Purchases of furniture for use in tourist accommodation also will be exempt for the same period. The budget extends the present sales tax exemption on rates in Ontario tourist accommodation until 1981.

Also the top mining tax rate will be cut from 40 to 30 per cent, and the basic exemption from mining tax raised from the first $100,000 to the first $200,000 on mining profits.

During the debates on the budget this week it was pointed out that Ontario's deficits have, in some part, in the past been financed by loans taken out in German Deutschmark. These loans were taken out at a much lower exchange rate, and when one of the loans became due and payable in 1975, it produced an actual loss for the province of $9.55 million. The province still has outstanding two loans in DM and we face even more severe losses due to the continuing rise in the value of the DM. For instance, this year a portion of one of the loans became due on February 1. This was equal to $4 million Canadian when we took out the loan, and it required over $9 million Canadian to make that payment this year, showing an exchange loss of about $5 million, with more losses to come in the future.

The fastest growing budgetary item is the interest on the provincial debt, which is now costing us $3.8 million a day in interest. This amounts to $1.388 billion a year, 9.2 percent of the current budget, and an increase of 12.6 percent over last year. A decade ago, the funded debt stood at $4.2 billion. It is now projected to be $15.3 billion by the end of the fiscal year, an increase of 263 percent. This represents an increase from $551 per capita in 1970-71 to a projection of $1,791 per capita for this fiscal year.

Opposition parties have called for a provincial foreign investment review agency, after Liberal MPP Jack Riddell (Huron-Middlesex) revealed

Boaters should abide by 'rules of the road'

Most boating people are courteous, helpful, and have a great amount of nautical savvy. They know their craft, how to use them and how to react to other boats sharing the water. In short, they know "the rules of the road", plus they apply common sense in situations now covered by the book.

But, unfortunately, there's the occasional boater who seems oblivious to conditions and situations affecting his own boat and others. He's either very rude or ignorant of boating rules and forces others to handle their boats defensively.

Recreational boating is governed by a minimum of written rules and regulations. All boaters should make themselves thoroughly familiar with them. In addition, they should learn the unwritten or common sense rules of the sport. This knowledge

Extendicare News

by Dr. W. O. Anderson

Steve Moysey was the winner of the second annual Rockcliffe Invitational Squash Tournament Saturday. Here he is congratulated by tournament organizer, Dave Willis.

Ken Rydman, his consolation victory trophy from Dave Willis at the conclusion of the Rockcliffe Invitational Squash Tournament Saturday.

Mr. Charles Plewman was the recipient of a lovely pot of Easter lily bloom from his family, and rather than keep them to himself in his room, he asked if they could be displayed to all by placing them in the lounge. They are now in the lounge planter where they add much charm for us.

Last fall we banked our three rose bushes and now on digging them out find them to be living and will soon be in leaf. It will not be long after that before we have the roses.

In the Monday radio noon 'phone in' nursing homes in general in Ontario were discussed. Extendicare in particular. The chief lament was that there must be a cheaper way of caring for worn-out senior citizens than to incarcerate them in nursing homes. This is a quite rough and tumble program that only the listener can decide if it is worth listening to.

It seems that we will not have the balsams to depend on for summer display. Some infestation has destroyed most of them and we are still not sure if the trouble is over. The other plants so far are in excellent shape, and we are still confident of a nice summer display. Too early planting has meant that some are too far advanced but with some cutting back can be delayed enough.

that a West German family had enough money deposited in Huron County banks to buy the equivalent of two townships of farmland. The Minister of Agriculture said he would need facts and figures before anything could be done, and that a study of land ownership in Huron County was in progress. Riddell noted that four other provinces have laws restricting foreign ownership of land. Remo Mancini, Liberal MPP (Essex South) asked the minister if he had a plan of action if the study showed there was more foreign ownership than expected. The Minister reminded members of the 20 percent land transfer tax on the sale of land to foreigners. However, in a debate on this subject last December 5, Riddell had stated that some foreign interests were avoiding the land transfer tax by reforming an Ontario corporation.

Common sense key to safe summer boating will enhance the pleasure they get from boating.

Here are a few suggestions from the experts at Allied Boating Association of Canada to help make your boating better, safer and more fun:

Never overload your boat. Especially in smaller craft, the seating space provided is not necessarily an indication of the number of passengers the boat will safely carry.

Be sure your boat is equipped with legally required items, as well as others that may prove helpful in an emergency. Worth considering are things such as extra line, anchor, paddle or oars, basic spare parts and tools, and a first aid kit.

Take it easy when boating on unfamiliar waterways. Watch for shoals, submerged obstructions and signs. Try to get information in advance from someone who is familiar with the area.

Don't tie-up launching ramps longer than necessary to launch your boat. Make all your launching preparations before you back onto it.

Obey speed limit and no-wake signs in congested areas. Pass other boats only where you should and when you should.

is to be on Thursday, so Tuesday morning our ladies Mrs. Flossie Burk, Mrs. Elizabeth McIntosh, Mrs. Maud Weston, Mrs. Lottie Woodcock and Mrs. Hazel Parish, under the instructions and supervision of Mrs. Pat Burk and Miss Ann Craig, baked a nice chocolate cake and a big batch of cherry nut cookies. We will find the proof in the eating.

Wednesday was a day of great anticipation and expectation that we had in prospect for quite some time; a trip and visit to Mr. Dennis Nolet's maple syrup establishment at Hardwood Lake (10 miles west of Denbigh, or Highway 41) in the counties of Lennox and Addington. And we were in no way disappointed because Mr. Nolet has one of the most precise and efficient operations to be found anywhere in Ontario. His 13,900 and some sugar maples are tapped by collector tubes each leading to the central depot, where it is processed by strict government rules into syrup, or sugar or maple butter.

In 1967 the Nolets lived in Toronto unemployed, knowing nothing of maple sap, let alone syrup, but got a chance to start this industry and together made it the success it is, and more. Starting with an evaporator building, their ambition and native skill outgrew this, with the addition of a sizeable building to serve their maple products in delightful restaurant style. This added building is an amazing structure by itself, structured like a log building, except that all the timbers are grooved top and bottom and ends, and squared by chainsaw regardless of length. Where timbers meet the opposite grooves are filled by precisely sized strips (always paired) making the walls and ends a solid mortise, with both out and inside walls

We came out of eight games with four wins, .500, the best I've ever hit in my life. And if that dummy Hackstetter hadn't missed his draw in the fifth game and bumped the opposition up for five, we'd have won the tournament.

having a fair finish. It is doubtful if anyone making a study of this description can recall a more perfect structure any way, using no nails or pegs. Bolts and plates are used in the collar ties.

Mr. Dennis Nolet and his wife Virginia of Hardwood Lake are amazing people, and you can bet we had a marvellous day especially when we sat down in the restaurant dining room to a plate of sumptuous pancakes and maple syrup made on the spot. We thank these helpers for seeing that none of us got lost in the sugar bush and that we got a full quota of pancakes, - Mrs. Margaret Fed-orchuck, Mrs. Eileen Morrison, Mrs. Mary McKee, and Mrs. Freda Stewart, and Mrs. Pat Burk for driving us safely to and fro and organizing this delightful trip.

We finally came to the month of birthdays Thursday afternoon celebrating: Harold Austin, Mrs. Flossie Burk, Ezra Lott, Leonard Milburn and Mrs. Ada Denholm, at a party MC'd by Mrs. Marily Stouffer and Mrs. Betty Salvatore at the piano. Marily led us through a repertoire of old time favourites in her delightful fashion until the mouth watering chocolate cake made its appearance.

The 'Happy Birthdays' were sung, the cake along with tea or milk or juices were consumed and the celebrants had safely passed another year.

Some may say "those blooming crocus" for blooming they are, straight as a string along each Extendicare wall temporarily taking over the lawn until they are finished showing their colors, whites, yellows, orange and blue. One of our young maples beside the entry is encircled by them. None of the tulips or daffodils are in flower though making quite a show of green. There are twelve seedling balsams that

by Carole McLean

Ontario Craft Council's, Central Regional Show

It gives me a great deal of pleasure to announce that two of our local crafts people, Lucy Melrose and Mary Wallace have been chosen to exhibit their crafts at the show being held at Georgian College in Barrie. As this is our first time for submitting work from our guild, to have two chosen is quite an honour. To show our support you are invited to view this exhibition on Wednesday, May 9. A bus has been obtained for this purpose and will leave Lakeview Centre at 9 a.m. and will then proceed to the municipal offices in Minden to pick up additional passengers; the approximate time will be 9:30 a.m. The bus will carry 48 adults and so far 32 of those seats have been filled. If you would like to attend, please call Carole McLean at 457-1128, as only those names listed will be sure of obtaining a seat. As we will not arrive home until 8 or 9 p.m. arrangements will be made to have dinner in Barrie at the Crock and Block Restaurant. Note: All crafts at the exhibition, save the award winning pieces will be for sale.

Highlands Little Theatre Group, Welcome!

To the newest member of our Guild of Fine Arts we proudly introduce the "Highlands Little Theatre Group". All members of this group are currently enrolled in the theatre course now in progress, under the direction of David Fraser from the Peterborough "Little Theatre Group". At the conclusion of their course in June this group will present a 1-act play - more details on this later. Although the course is now underway it will in no way hinder new members from joining and becoming enthusiastic and active members. If you are interested in Little Theatre or perhaps just in learning more about this group contact Caryl Douglas at 286-2255. She will gladly supply you with all the information you will require.

Dirty Work

Sound fascinating? It is. This Saturday, April 28, at 8:00 p.m. the Bancroft Theatre Group will perform a 3-act play entitled "Dirty Work at the Cross Road" here in Haliburton at the High School. A melodrama, complete with moustache twirling villain will be performed by the Bancroft players for our enjoyment at the request of Marilyn Stouffer, head of our own Summer Theatre Group. For further information and tickets call Marilyn at 489-2395.

Weaving Group

It was a lovely change from the hard chairs of Lakeview Centre when Donna Vander-Wekken kindly opened her home to the weaving group on Tuesday evening. Donna, an avid weaver, has taken extensive courses in rug making and upon or expression of interest kindly consented to show via demonstrations the different techniques in rug weaving. The evening was concluded with a light lunch. Thank you Donna, it was a most enjoyable evening.

Pottery Group

With the workshop drawing to a close until September, the Pottery Group executive wish to remind you of their general meeting, Monday, April 30 at 7:00 p.m., Lakeview Centre. This meeting is important to all potters as this is the time to voice your opinion. As we are a co-operative workshop, it takes all of us working together to keep it running smoothly. It will also be a time to meet your new executive.

Our last work day will be the day of our annual pot luck luncheon, so on Tuesday, May 1, 10:00 p.m., bring your favourite dish or beverage and join us - a good time will be had by all.

Bay of Quinte U.C.W. hold conference

Some 340 women met at Cambridge St. United Church for the 17th Annual Meeting of the Bay of Quinte United Church Women, led by President Mrs. Evelyn Redpath of Oshawa, April 3 and 4. The theme of the conference was, "The Year of the Child". The Right Reverend George Tuttle, Moderator of the United Church, was present throughout the conference. He spoke to an open meeting on Tuesday evening on the theme, "The Church Now". He especially emphasized the work of women in the church, saying that, now, as Moderator he is seeing work that his mother has begun. He also spoke of the great part children have in our church life. He ended his evening message with a very helpful "Question and Answer" period. Reports for the year have shown a most successful program of activities. Three inspiring worship services were given on "The Year of the Child", by Oshawa, Renfrew and Belleville Presbyterians. Over $800 worth of books were sold at the conference. The offerings at the conference were designated for support of the newly formed, "Northern Pastoral Region" of the conference area.

Mrs. Marjorie Levan was the theme leader on "Come as a Child". She presented the report for the work of "Alcohol and Drug Concerns Inc." in Eastern Ontario. Her inspiring message and her enthusiasm encouraged the women to fight the alcohol traffic for the sake of their children. Mrs. Levan was present for the entire conference, making herself available with films and a great fund of information. Each member of the U.C.W. in the area was urged to write her member of parliament to protest against making the sale of marijuana legal.

The conference closed with the Moderator installing the officers for 1979. This was followed by a Communion Service administered by the Rev. Bessie Lane, assisted by the Moderator. Thanks were expressed to the officials of Cambridge St. Church for their hospitality, and to the ladies of the Church who so ably took care of the needs of their guests.

The Annual Meeting next year will be held in Kingsview United Church, Oshawa.

Recycle it!

by Jane Selbie

One man's junk is another man's treasure. So much of what goes out in the garbage can be recycled into useful items for the house.

Recycling isn't a new idea, as a matter of fact it is only recently that we have become a throwaway society. In years gone by people saved and reused as a matter of logical economy. Old inner tubes were cut to make flaps for protecting locks from the elements. Old sugar sacks made (and still do) excellent tea towels or pillow liners. Screws, hinges, and bolts were always removed from furniture, or old doors before the item was discarded.

With energy conservation being the topic of the day we can reshape our thinking to recycle what might seem to be unusable. Dad's cluttered workshop can be reorganized by saving bottles for old nails. To eliminate the use of valuable table top space on his workbench, the lids to the bottles can be nailed to a board bracketed on the wall, thus forming a shelf for some items and the underside easily displays clear bottles of nails, screws, nuts or whatever. These can be screwed to and from the lids when needed.

Next week...a hint for Mom. Don't forget, we want to hear from you. A prize of five dollars will be awarded to the best submission each month. Remember we all save by sharing our tips.

Easter Sunday we here at Hyland Crest were privileged to have Rev. David Barker from St. Paul's Anglican Church, Minden, come in and conduct a special Communion Service in our chapel. It was a beautiful service. Thank you Rev. Barker for taking time out of your especially busy day for us.

Monday morning began as usual with our fun and fitness program with as much fun as fitness and in the afternoon, crafts for the ladies. The evening movies were entitled "Bermuda Secret", and "Newfoundland". These were two fascinating films. If we had a choice it would be hard to choose which place we would want to go to first.

Tuesday morning devotion in our little chapel was conducted by Jimmy Cooper from West Guilford. He gave a lovely sermon. Also we enjoyed the beautiful accompaniment on the organ by Mrs. Cummings from Lutterworth Pines. It was nice to have Mr. and Mrs. Cooper remain and have lunch with us as well. Later on in the afternoon we had quite a few games of bingo. Some of us were luckier than others.

Wednesday morning we held fun and fitness and in the afternoon in our craft room after having completed some bazaar articles with the help of all of our volunteers, we had a little surprise tea party for Lil Rawlins who is soon to retire. The girls brought in some lovely squares and cookies and also a pretty little gift to wish her a very happy retirement.

Thursday's afternoon tea party was served by the ladies from the Haliburton U.C.W. These girls sure brought a lovely lunch. They had different kinds of loaf cakes and cheese. The residents really enjoyed it. Thank you. In the evening the Kinsmen fellows came in to call our bingo numbers for us.

Friday afternoon we had a good turnout when Grace and Norma came in to entertain us in our lounge.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Here we are going into the last week of April. The weather is nice, the ground is warming up and the flowers are starting to grow. Everyone is either home from their winter in the south, or on their way home. Birds are singing, black flies and mosquitoes are around, so I guess spring is here to stay. Isn't it a great time of the year?

There is an old saying, "it isn't the world that is bad, it is the people in it." How true. Mrs. Edith Welch is home again after spending several weeks with the Ron Welch family at Frankford. I heard on the weekend news that the training school at Lindsay is being shut down the end of July. So many things are being shut down, and they wonder why there is so much unemployment.

The Bud Williams, Maude Campbell, and Elsie Watt, all of Weston visited with Maude's sisters; Tessa Davis and Mabel Trumbull, also her niece Velma Stevenson over the Easter holiday. Well, hockey is all over for the Toronto Maple Leafs, but I must say they sure made the Canadians earn their money in the last two games. Those games showed how hockey should be played, even if there was the odd ruckus in the last one. To me it was hockey at its best and the Leafs should be proud that it took so much overtime to beat them.

With the nice weather coming, there will be many weekend camping trips; so here is a tip for campers; along with dry matches, pack lint from the clothes dryer into a small plastic pill bottle. It ignites quickly and can make tinder for several fires. It's light in weight and takes so little space.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Robinson and Mrs. King visited with the Leslie Robinsons in Lindsay last week.

Everyone was wishing for a nice day on Sunday, April 22 when Mr. and Mrs. Angus Coulter celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at the Wagon Wheel. It was a lovely day and around 300 family and friends called to wish them many more. All of the immediate family were present with the Garnet Coulter family coming from Cambell River, B.C.

It was a big weekend for Mrs. Garnet Coulter with her family the Cowens holding their reunion on Saturday; the Coulter family dinner Saturday evening, then the anniversary on Sunday, but all had a wonderful time.

Velma and Judy Stevenson spent the past weekend in Kingston with Lela Stevenson.

Hopefully the flood situation in this area will not develop. We have had enough floods, but isn't it awful in other places?

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rivers and family spent this past weekend with Maude Coulter.

It is a mistake to believe that government can give things to the people without first taking it away from the people.

The Thrift Shop or A.C.W. room will be open this Friday, April 27 from 2-4 p.m. This is at the parish hall where the A.C.W. had a very good rummage sale last week.

Winners at the mini card party last week were: bridge, Doris Craig; cribbage, Anne Dawson, Dora Dawson; euchre, lone hand - Della Griffin; Shirley Elcome, Harry MacMinn.

May birthdays at Hyland Crest Home are: Irene Stewart 4th; Henry Robinson 8th; Ida Schell 10th; Marjory Kanally 11th; Mary Grozelle 23rd.

One of our area's grand old ladies, Mrs. Tessa Davies celebrated her 87th birthday last Saturday. She keeps busy all the time, and I am proud to own one of the mats she made from rags. It is lovely.

The L.O.B.A. card party will be at the Orange Hall on Monday, April 30 at 8 p.m. The Minden & District Horticultural Society meeting is May 1, 7:30 p.m. at the Minden Council Chambers. Well, I have the garden plowed. I was undecided whether or not to have any garden, but with this nice weather I could not resist. What is not planted in vegetables, can be used for flowers.

Today is mine; it is unique, nobody in the world has one exactly like it; it holds the sum of all my past experiences, and all my future potential; I can fill it with joyous moments, or ruin it with fruitless worry; if painful recollections of the past come into my mind, or frightening thoughts of the future, I can put them away. They cannot spoil today for me.

Adios and take care now.

are emerging from some malady that killed many. None of the other plants have been affected.

Rev. John Smith of the Lakeside Baptist Church led us Friday morning in our devotional period, his wife Velma was the welcome pianist with out reliable Charles Plewman playing his harmonica. The message was "The Giver and the Gift". Jesus was the giver by dying on the cross so that we who believe may have eternal life and what a gift that is. It was a nice Easter message that we greatly appreciated. At last one of our sky pilots could partake with us of the after service snack of tea or coffee and cherry nut cookies, and the chafest that went with it. Mary Currah was the organizer which is why everything went so smoothly, and the cookies were delicious.

We are sorry about the goobledook as it appeared last week despite our efforts to avoid it. Nuclear fusion is marriage, desirable, safe and perpetual; Fission is divorce, undesirable, risky (Harrisburg) and a waster of fuel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stockley of Severan Bridge visited with Ray and I and the children last Wednesday. They have just returned from Florida where they lived for six months and had plenty to tell us about their trip. Mrs. Shirley Adams also came for a visit with them.

Mr. Alf Sisson and Mr. Ray Barry were business visitors to Lindsay and Peterborough last Friday.

Various reports given at April meeting of Minden W.I.

The April 18 meeting of Minden Women's Institute was held at the United Church Hall. It opened with a verse and welcome from Pres. Mrs. Lyman Cox. After the usual opening, 24 members replied to the roll call by paying their fees and included were two new members. The yearly report was read by treasurer Mrs. A. S. Kernohan and she had a nice balance for the year. She had received a cheque for lunch served after the L. Winch Service and Mrs. Cox thanked the ladies who had done this.

Mrs. W. Moore gave her report of 14 cards sent since last meeting. Collections for this fund and pennies were taken. The card yearly report also given by Mrs. Moore, had 350 cards sent to sick, shut-ins, bereaved or congratulations to people of the village.

In regards to project for Year of the Child, a donation of $50 is to be made towards support of the local Red Cross swimming classes.

The group then heard world affairs report by convener Mrs. M. Bunker and these highlights were surely interesting and enlightening. Election of officers was conducted by Mrs. M. Sears and the slate was accepted as listed below.

Several short verses were read by Mrs. Arnold Coulter. The meeting adjourned and all enjoyed the lunch served by the committee. On the little raffle winner of the gift was Alice Todd. Next meeting will be at St. Paul's Parish Hall, Wednesday, May 16 at 2 p.m. with any interested ladies welcome to attend.

Women's Institute officers for 1979-80 are: pres., Mrs. L. Cox; past pres., Mrs. Clare Brown; 1st V.P., Mrs. Pat Clarke; 2nd V.P., Mrs. V. Todd; secretary, Mrs. J. Hulbig; treasurer, Mrs. A. S. Kernohan.

Wilberforce News

Patrick Jordens and his family live in South Wilberforce. They do a little farming and raise farm animals to supplement their income. Among these are several goats. A recent addition to the farm was the arrival of four baby kids. These were welcomed with joy and received the best of care until it was deemed time to set them out in a pen in the barn. Last week three of the kids were destroyed in the night. The local game warden was consulted and confirmed that the culprits were dogs who had broken through the barn wall, entered the pen and killed the three little animals, ate one of them and left two dead. Left behind were prints and long black hair of one or two dogs. Measures will be taken to cope with these animals should they return.

The County Economic Development Committee will be holding a meeting on April 27 at 7 p.m. in the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre. Under discussion will be new growth for the county, and ways and means of encouraging industry to move into this area. It is to be hoped that all residents who are interested in promoting economic growth in the township will attend this meeting. Business people are urged to bring with them a brief on this subject. Talk about it with your friends and neighbours then come and bring your ideas to the meeting.

A spring rummage sale takes place in the basement of St. Margaret's Anglican church on Saturday, April 28 from 1 to 4 p.m. Did you know that used postage stamps and discarded eye glasses can be put to use? The Canadian, U.S. or Overseas stamps are cut with about 1/4 inch of envelope left all around the stamp. These are collected and sent to the Leprosy Mission, which sells the stamps to a stamp collector and the money received for them is used to pay for food and medicine for leprosy sufferers or to purchase medical equipment for leprosy hospitals. The discarded eyeglasses are sent to the Downtown Churchworkers Association in Toronto. A lady on staff there has had optometrical training and is able to give out glasses to needy people. Any glasses with complex prescriptions are given to a Christian Ophthalmologist who uses them in the mission field. In our area both stamps and glasses are collected by Mrs. Keith Cameron who will be pleased to receive them anytime.

We had had ducks paddling around in the open water for some time and we also have a pair of loons adding their presence to the spring nature scene. The ice has really been breaking up in a hurry and should be out early if this warm weather continues. The nice weather gives one the urge to get out and make the yard as well as admire the crocuses in bloom. The daffodils and hyacinths are coming along quickly and will be blooming before too long. The sights and smells of the emerging spring season almost makes one forget the long and arduous winter. Lorne and Jean Greenaway have returned from a trip to Knoxville, Tennessee where they visited friends. They enjoyed nice weather while there and were surprised to see the abundance of trilliums in bloom in that area.

Mrs. Jeanne Sears of Minden sends a clever handbag suggestion. An inexpensive leather coat bought at a rummage sale became a useful purse when cut to size, fitted with pockets and stitched with nylon fishing line. Round wooden handles were added for the final touch.

Mrs. Sandy Pucknell of Gelett suggests that an interesting economical gift wrap can be made from newspapers tied with a rope for a nitty-gritty look. Comic pages make an especially good choice for children's presents.

The annual rally of Region 4 of Lindsay Presbytery U.C.W. will be held on Wednesday, May 23 at Knox United Church, Cobocok. The guest speaker, Mr. Ernest Aikens of the Children's Aid Society has chosen as his topic "Foster Children in Our Community". All area United Church women are invited to attend and registration is at 9:30 a.m. Luncheon at noon is $2.00 per person.

The Cobocok Pastoral Charge walkathon is scheduled for Saturday, May 5. If you are approached to sponsor a walker, remember all of the proceeds go to World Development, Mission and Service Department of the United Church of Canada.

Work on the foundation of the new O.P.P. headquarters on highway 48, west of Cobocok is well underway and with this dry, pleasant weather, construction should move ahead quickly.

It is a little sad to see the gas pumps gone from the corner of highways 35 and 503 as, I understand, those gas pumps have been there since 1921. However, all in the name of progress. Butch's Gulf and Bait will now consist of a pizza and submarine restaurant in the back of the building and out front a bait shop. Butch hopes to have his new eating place open in about three weeks and it will be open only during the summer months.

After this week of lovely, sunny weather, it is hard to believe that just last Saturday, April 14 as we drove through Barrie and Orillia, huge blocks of ice were piled along the north shore of Lake Simcoe. No doubt the sun has now melted a lot of it but not before many boat houses, docks and buildings were damaged by the piles of ice thrust against them by high winds.

Norland Firefighter's Association hockey pool winner on Saturday, April 14 was Boyd Magee. This association has draw tickets for sale at $1.00 each to win a grand prize of $1,000.00. Purchase your tickets from a member or at the township office and support our firemen. The draw will be made at the house draw on Saturday, July 14.

Last call for the Ladies Auxiliary spring dance on Saturday, April 28 from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. By popular demand the Misty River Ramblers will again supply toe tapping dance music to join friends and neighbours at the Norland Community Hall. Tickets are $8.00 a couple, lunch will be served and the bar is licenced under L.L.B.O.

On Sunday night, April 15 person or persons broke into the township garage which is situated west of Norland on highway 503 near the waste disposal site. About $2,800. worth of tools were taken and gas was siphoned from the truck. O.P.P. are investigating the break-in which wasn't discovered until Monday morning.

There will be a free adult immunization clinic sponsored by the Victoria County Board of Health in Fenelon Falls at the public school on Wednesday, May 2 from 2:00 to 7:30 p.m. This clinic will be for polio and tetanus immunization and after the polio scare last fall, perhaps all adults should plan to attend and be immunized in the event of another outbreak. Let's not take our health for granted!

It is nice to see Ted Cameron out and around again after being incapacitated for sometime when he suffered a stroke last January.

Cobocok charge of the United Church will share a service together on Sunday, April 29 at 11:00 a.m. in Burnt River United Church. Special guest speaker is Mr. Maurice Bradley of Tory Hill who will tell of his work as a construction missionary in Africa.

As of May 1 hours of operation of the township waste disposal site will be Saturday and Sunday - 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Monday and Wednesday - 12:00 noon to 7:00 p.m. These hours will be in effect until September 30.

There are still a few tickets left for the bus trip on May 14 to Vineland to visit the Rittmere rug hooking homestead place. Original patterns and designs of rug hooking will be on display and the dyeing process for the Onehebe woods used for today's rugs will also be viewed as well as the attractively landscaped gardens outside the home. The bus leaves Norland at 8:00 a.m., cost of trip is $11.00 and if you are interested please contact me 454-3233 before April 30.

Second week of play-offs of Norland Bowling Club, the team standings are: Don Boyce's - 6172 pts., Lois McLean's - 5853 pts., Barbara Maunder's - 5773 pts., Betty Davey's - 5765 pts., Nelly Chynoweth's - 5699 pts., Kim Watson's - 5546 pts., Lyle Jewell's - 5365 pts., Trent Watson's - 5310 pts., Ladies' high single - Nelly Chynoweth - 238; high triple - Betty Davey - 572. Men's high single and triple - Harry Smith - 259, 678. The bowling banquet and dance will be on Saturday, May 12 in Kinmount Legion Hall starting at 6:30 p.m. If you are not a member of the Norland bowling group and would like to attend, please contact Rotha Bryant, Marj Lee or Barbara Maunder before May 5 so a place can be reserved for you. Tickets for dinner and dance are $8.00 per person. The dance will feature Linda Revelle and her Rhythm Country group and tickets for dance are $3.50 per person.

Jessie and Everett Cameron left last week for a holiday on the west coast, flying to Vancouver for the first part of their holiday.

Legion Auxiliary members were honored at "Ladies Night" at the Legion hall on Friday evening. The ladies sat down to a delicious dinner prepared (or catered) by the men members.

Work is progressing well on the new Provincial Police building. It is in a good location and has been much needed for some time. Mr. Clements has purchased the old Bank of Commerce building and Park Real Estate will now operate their business from the old bank building.

After a long winter, isn't it great to have such beautiful weather? Folks are busy raking the yards, painting, burning rubbish, etc. and it's work-that-we-all-love jobs being done!

If only we could teach or prosecute these people who throw out cans and bottles along our roads! So many pretty parks etc. are an unsightly mess due to people who have no interest in helping beautify our delightful summer resort area.

Kinmount Klippings

by Fran Crawford

Hi folks! Here we are starting another lovely week and nearing the end of April again.

Some news I received too late for last week: Everyone will be pleased to know, Derek Harrison, grandson of Ernie and Vivian Anderson of Kinmount and Clayton Harrison of Minden won the Victoria County Chess Tournament for elementary school pupils in the intermediate division. This was held at I.E. Weldon secondary school in Lindsay on the weekend a couple of weeks past.

Visitors with the Moss family over Easter were Bill, Lorrie and Jason Moss of Norland, Mrs. Mary L. Pyke (Mrs. Moss's mother) and Mr. John Pyke of Norland, Ida and Clyde Pardy of Cobocok, Bonnie Hatfield of Willowdale and Jim Walker of Weston, Bill and Wynn Wilson of Kinmount and Pvt. Roy Rivers stationed at Kingston. By the way, on St. Patrick's Day the Moss family all talked to her sister in Ireland. It was her wedding anniversary. They could hear each other just as clear as in the same room.

It is reported that the ice went out of Crystal Lake on Friday the 20th of April just in time for the weekend. Boats and cottagers will follow. Welcome back.

Not much news on the suckers running as yet. Watch for the poplar buds coming. That used to be a good sign unless that has been changed to metric or whatever.

Alice and Bill Pearson are back from touring parts of the U.S.A. They had a great time but were pleased to get home. Kay and Andy Davidson are back from Arizona, and the Lougheed's are on their way back from Florida.

Mrs. Dettman has a lovely new store down at Crystal Lake. When Claude was tearing down the old one, he was reminiscing how he had helped build it but had never expected to be the one to tear it down.

Congratulations to Jim Nightingale on his appointment as deputy fire chief of the Galway-Cavendish Fire Department.

There are rehearsals on Tuesday and Wednesday night at the community hall in town for the play "Our Town". Sam and Marg Telford have taken on a tremendous job of directing the play in preparation for the Arts Festival. Mark Brelsford is doing the stage sets and Tom Wilson is in charge of the lights. They still need more people to help. If you are interested please get in touch with Sam.

Ray and Faye Hobbs are designing barnyard lawn ornaments and lawn furniture. You will see that at the festival.

The euchre games are over for the season at Galway Hall. They were a lot of fun, thanks to Lil Platt, Shirley Preston and Betty Stuart who did most of the work and made the winter evenings less tedious.

Don't you Legion members forget Sunday, April 29 is election of officers at Branch 441. Don't sit at home and then chew the rag if so and so gets in or doesn't get in. Get out and vote.

Anyone interested in trying out for Kinmount Ball Club there will be a practice on Sunday, April 29 at 2 p.m. at the ball diamond at the fair grounds.

A "Maybe winter's over" dance will be held at Galway Hall on Saturday, April 28. Admission is $4.00 each and there will be prizes, buffet and refreshments.

No big winners at bingo last week. This week there will be 59 numbers called for $190.00 jackpot.

The 50-50 draw Saturday was won by Earl Askey who won $27.50.

Not too good a crowd at the dance Saturday night but "Burnt River Country" and Mr. Lavers will be playing this week.

The $50.00 hockey pool was won by a chap from Sutton. I don't know his name.

There was a bit of excitement Saturday morning. Doug Bowman thought he'd burn his garden. He had a trench dug around it but anyhow the fire got away and burnt all the old hay and damaged some trees out in the field. The firemen were there and Ministry of Natural Resources. It could have been worse.

The people of Cozy Cabins had a bad fire in their new home. The woodburner furnace blew up. I guess most of the damage caused was by smoke and water. They were lucky they got out in time.

Kinmount is really growing. We have traffic lights at the bridge now. I have heard we are going to have a "Bailey" bridge. I hope they don't have a Hydro pole at the end of it like they had in Minden a few years back.

This week is Wintario again. Grace Simmons of Ironstone won $10.00 last time and she won $15.00 on Cash For Life.

Well, that's all for this week. Bye for now.

Home of the Week

This four bedroom, full basement design is perfectly suited to the rearview medium frontage lot, and offers the larger or expanding family every convenience necessary to a relaxed and gracious life style.

The mixed vertical and diagonal siding of the exterior, combined with the heavy shake roof, establish a natural rustic tone which would enhance any residential district, either urban or rural.

The deep, weather-sheltered entrance leads into a compact foyer and directly forward into the large and open L-shaped living-dining room combination. The living room features an attractive corner fireplace which has the built-in barbecue feature on the patio side.

The dining room has sliding glass doors to the rear patio and separates from the kitchen via pocket door.

The well-planned L-shaped kitchen has easy access to the dining room for formal dining, and separates from the dining nook via snack bar counter for casual family meals.

All four bedrooms are positioned well away from the main activities area of the home for freedom from disturbance. All are conveniently grouped around the central bath and linen storage area, and each has good natural lighting and ample closet storage space. The master bedroom has a large, walk-in closet with storage shelves alongside. A three-piece ensuite bath with tub and window leaves the master bedroom completely for the children and guests.

A full basement provides abundant storage and workshop space, and allows for the future development of additional bedrooms or recreational facilities.

A pleasing modern design with many convenience facilities guaranteed to provide a measure of gracious living for the larger family.

Plans for design No. 77-1600 may be purchased either by the single set, at a cost of $70, for the first set and $10, for each additional set, or by the package. A five-set plan package, including the first set, is economically priced at $100, and an eight-set package, also including the first set, is only $125.

Whichever method you choose, please include $4.00 for postage and handling. B.C. residents add 7 per cent sales tax.

Send for the current edition of Select Home Designs, Series #36, featuring imaginative decorating and home improvement ideas plus 350 quality home plans of every type. Available for $2.25 ($1.75 plus 50 cents postage and handling).

To order any of these items please send cheque or money order payable to the Home of the Week, The Haliburton County Echo, 382 West Broadway, Vancouver, B.C. V5Y 1R2.

Stanhope notes by A. F. Stevenson

After an absence, it is good to be back home in Stanhope and to find it less of a battlefield than newspaper reports led me to believe. Undoubtedly much rancor and bitterness generated during the past year still exists and in the case of a small number it will remain for too long a time.

Happily, many are putting their feelings behind them and there may be hope that new energies will be channelled into worthwhile community projects. Some of the antagonism appears to have grown from sound causes on both sides of the ongoing debate while much has been caused by rumours which could only be said to have caused trouble but added nothing to the solution of the problems. Reeve Jim Harrison is carrying on an inquiry re: rumours about the fire department equipment and the efficiency of the personnel. The reeve is searching for answers to these questions and he is taking the time to get them from sources that are qualified and reliable.

We believe that the reeve deserves credit for acting promptly to clear the air on a matter of public concern rather than ignoring it and letting things get further fouled up. The recent meeting involving the petition in support of the clerk treasurer of the township, following receipt of a letter by some members of council suggesting that the clerk be dismissed served a useful purpose in that it showed that a large percentage of the township residents appreciated the value of an excellent clerk-treasurer. There is little likelihood that the reeve or the deputy reeve Elgin Stouffer would have tolerated any move to dismiss the clerk and it may be hoped that from among the ranks of the other three councilmen that there would be support for the retention of the clerk.

There appears to be some disappointment that the council members who received copies of this letter did not favour an attempt to prove whether the letter truly represented the membership of the association whose letterhead was used and which bore the signature of an officer of that association. In a recent brief discussion with the clerk we were assured by Gerald that he was deeply appreciative of the support given by the petitioners and by those at the meeting which dealt with it. Inasmuch as council knows the value of a man like Gerald in charge of township administration, and since the demonstration of support for him no doubt offset any discouragement he felt as a result of the request for his dismissal, it looks as if his friends can look forward to seeing the affairs of the township continue in the capable administrative hands of Gerald Bain.

This article opened with a reference to rancor and bitterness existing in our township and it would like to close with a plea that those two ugly words be replaced with the single word "reason". Attempts in the past to try and arrive at reasoned meeting of minds have failed - perhaps the time was wrong - perhaps the method was wrong, or perhaps the will to reason was stronger on one side than the other. Whatever the cause, a lot of good community minded people have withdrawn and it can only be hoped that from among their number will come the leadership needed to encourage those people to pursue the interest they formerly had in serving the community. They may have new ideas for a community project and they may be the only ones with the enthusiasm to get it going and keep it moving.

Most people know that little is done by noise and shouting, it only serves to dull the mind to rational thinking - the process of constructive reasoning is weakened and perhaps destroyed. So let us hope that groups of people of like interest will join hands to develop their chosen project and in so doing make Stanhope the happy place it was such a short time ago. Let it prove to the neighbouring townships that Stanhope is not so mortally wounded that it will be easy picking for those who would be happy to add a piece of Stanhope to their more heavily taxed townships should ever county re-structuring come about.

Gooderham News

There has been a lot of travelling this last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hunter flew out west to visit their daughter Gail and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronny Mintz and family motored to Toledo Ohio to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mintz and said they had a lovely weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Detler and Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Graham and family spent the weekend in Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Elgin MacDuff have just come back from down south with a nice tan.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Billings spent the weekend in St. Catharines visiting Joe's sister, Helen.

It's also nice to see Gord and Lee Newman home after spending the winter in Florida and Gladys and Aldridge Hunter just came back. They also spent the winter in Florida. I don't think the Barrs or Mrs. Winder are back yet.

Well, they have started to rebuild the highway 503 from Tory Hill to two miles the other side of Gooderham. It will sure be nice to get a better road. It has to be the worst road in Haliburton County.

On Easter Sunday, Mrs. Corrie Switzer celebrated her eighty-first birthday with a surprise turkey dinner at Graham's restaurant in Gooderham. There were 22 of her family and grandchildren there and a nice time was had by all and if anyone is looking for a nice restaurant that is the place.

Birthday greetings go out this week to Shannon Mintz, Ken Gill and Loretta Billings. Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Gill celebrated their wedding anniversary.

Senior citizens held their weekly meeting last Wednesday with a good turnout. They had a nice study on rocks and this Wednesday is pot luck dinner. Everyone come and bring your appetite and something to eat.

Well, we sure had a nice week. The weather was nice and warm and a little rain Saturday night should start the flowers and grass to grow and bring out those darling little black flies. But I guess that all comes with spring. Anything is better than that snow and cold weather.

Carnarvon News

by Yvonne Penney

The ice is gone from the lakes which should mean warmer weather. People are already talking of planting gardens.

Hal and Helen Burton and Hazel and Jack Gregory arrived home from their vacation in the south last week.

About 40 people attended the meeting of Haliburton County Chapter of Ontario Association for Children with Learning Disabilities held last week at the Legion hall in Haliburton to hear two fine speakers from the Five Counties Children's Centre in Peterborough.

Several flocks of wild geese have been seen flying north in the past few days.

Don't forget - if you like to dance - there is a dance at the Stanhope Firefighters Hall this Saturday, April 28.

Members of our household were supporting the Toronto Maple Leafs in the N.H.L. quarter-finals and were disappointed to see them lose after such a great comeback on Sunday night.

Control Warbles Now

Warble flies cause thousands of dollars damage to cattle in Victoria and Haliburton Counties every year. The majority of damage is done by the warble grubs which live over winter as parasites in the cattle's bodies.

These grubs are now entering the final and most destructive stage of their cycle. This is when they form large lumps on the back of their host animal, then cut a hole through the hide to escape and start a new cycle as adult flies this summer.

Everyone who owns cattle should check their animals now, to see if there are any warble grubs developing lumps on the cattle's backs.

If you find any lumps, the infected cattle should be treated before going on to pasture. This treatment will kill the grubs before they become flies, and start the cycle over again.

If you fail to treat infected cattle, you are ensuring that

Opening dates of parks announced

Contrary to earlier reports, most provincial parks in the Algonquin region will be open for the 1979 season as follows:

May 11, Algonquin, Arrowhead, Sturgeon Bay, Killbear Point and Petroglyphs. June 2 - Bonnechere, Carson Lake, Lake St. Peter, Mikisew, Oastler, Silent Lake, Grundy and Driftwood.

To accommodate those wishing earlier camping, at least two campgrounds in Algonquin Park will be open from April 28. Partial services will be available in Driftwood and Grundy from May 18.

It is felt that these parks will adequately serve the needs of spring campers and fishermen in this region, according to the Ministry of Natural Resources.

both you and your neighbour's cattle will continue to suffer damage. This damage can lose you a lot of money this year.

Infected cattle can be treated now with a systemic insecticide, or sprayed with a regular insecticide twice during the next several weeks.

Systemic insecticides such as Spotton, Grubbeex, Neguvon, Ruelene or Co-op Warble Killer, are readily available at most farm supply outlets. These are easy to apply and cost around 30 to 50 cents per head for material.

If you prefer to spray your cattle, several custom sprayers are available in the area. Several townships make arrangements for these people to spray cattle in their township - contact your township clerk to obtain more details.

Ontario Youth Employment Program

The Ontario Youth Employment Program is being continued again this year by the Government of Ontario. This program offers employers - including farmers - a subsidy of $1.25 per hour for young people 15 to 25 years old are employed in a new job.

Several farmers in Victoria County benefited from this program last summer. These farmers will be receiving the rules and application for this year's program directly by mail.

If you are interested in participating for the first time this year, contact the Subsidies Branch, Ontario Ministry of Intergovernmental Affairs, Queen's Park, Toronto M7A 2R8.

Remember that to qualify, the job must be filled by a young person who is not related to the employer.

Year of the Child

Child proofing your house

by Jane Selbie

Many of the "No-no's" and frantic running after children can be eliminated by childproofing your home. Your house cannot remain as it was before your child's arrival - it was suited for adults! Your aim should be to provide a safe, comfortable place for her to explore, giving you a more relaxing situation.

Dangers even exist for the smallest babe. To avoid suffocation, keep loose sheets and blankets away from the face. Pin Baby pillows to the cradle providing a safe bumper. When changing your baby don't leave her for a moment, she might never have rolled before - but today may be the day. Infant seats are a great invention but it doesn't take much for them to tip. Fasten baby in and rest the seat on the floor, in a play pen or a very deep chair.

When the crawling begins, extension gates are a real boon making a room into a gigantic playpen. Check for small items that could choke her. A small bean or dry pea can cause real trouble if stuck in a nostril or ear. Blanks can be purchased to fill empty electrical sockets - a precaution that will be necessary for quite some time. Masking tape is great for securing items that little fingers find irresistible, such as floor vents or the dryer door. Safety latches will prove invaluable on cupboards.

The toddling stage makes earlier ones seem like small potatoes! Now the world is in for it. Think of it from a two year old's point of view. That cutglass vase that glistens in the light is beautiful and interesting to touch. You like it, why shouldn't she? Put it away - it won't be worth anything broken! You can expose her to a few temptations by leaving out one taboo item per room.

Sharp corners pose a constant problem to little ones whipping around. Particularly hazardous ones can be covered with a trim of sponge while needed.

One person suggested bells on a toddler's shoes. This way you can hear where little feet are going.

Lastly kitchen safety is vital. Avoid potential burns by turning pot handles in. Boiling or frying foods should be cooked on back elements. It is not difficult to do this and soon it becomes a habit.

All your efforts to childproof your house will really make life simpler. There will still be lots of things you couldn't imagine she'd find but at least it will reduce the feeling that you've become a "no-machine".
